Note: Google discontinued Filestream on March 12, 2018. Users who previously used Filestream will no longer be able to sign in to Filestream and instead should transition to Google Drive for Desktop.

Overview

Filestream is a tool for connecting your Google Drive to your PC or Mac and accessing the files as though they were located right on your local drive. Filestream uses an advanced machine learning algorithm to help keep files you are likely to access synced to your computer so you can access them, even when you can't connect to the web.

Access

Google Drive for Desktop

Help

For tailored assistance regarding Google Filestream, please contact the Help Desk at 828-262-6266 (Option 1)

For general assistance, please view Google's Drive Support Page.

Related Articles

- Backup and Sync
- Blogger
- Classroom
- Earth
- Filestream
- Forms
- Google Chat
- Keep
- Photos
- Sites
- Translate
- YouTube

Search Knowledge Base

Submit a Service Request