

GraphPad Prism

Website

graphpad.com/scientific-software/prism

Summary

GraphPad Prism is a statistical and graphing software package used to analyze and present experimental results and aid in the selection of appropriate statistical tests. Related data sets, statistics, graphs, and layouts can be organized within a single file. It can be used to prepare publication-ready graphs and visualizations.

Who can use this service?

Faculty

How do I purchase a license?

Users should obtain approval from their Department Chair or Unit Director prior to purchasing a license.

Academic & Perpetual Licenses can be purchased directly from their website.

Those who wish to purchase an enterprise/corporate license should submit an IT Acquisition request at <http://support.appstate.edu>.

How do I obtain a license?

This software is downloaded directly to your computer.

How do I request this service?

None

Internal Data (Requires Login)

Status:

07/06/2023 14:08:44