

Library-E Reserves

Website

library.appstate.edu/find/reserves

Summary

E-Reserves (Electronic Reserves) are items that are scanned and placed on the web.

The following materials can be placed on reserve:

- books, audio discs, and videos from the library collection
- personally owned books, audio discs, and videos (audio discs and videos must be originals; duplications will not be allowed)
- instructor-prepared items such as sample exams or quizzes, lecture notes, and homework assignments
- electronic selections from books or journals that meet copyright guidelines for fair use
- journal articles available through the library databases will be linked on your course page.

Who can use this service?

Faculty, Staff, Students, and Distance Learning Students.

How do I request this service?

Submit an electronic request (this form can be used for physical or electronic materials).

Who do I contact for problems or issues?

Contact the Library Reference Desk at (828) 262-2820

Internal Data (Requires Login)

Status:

07/11/2023 09:53:23