HoloAnatomy

Website

https://www.alensiaxr.com/

Summary

The HoloAnatomy Software suite and headset receivers (Hololens) allow for access to anatomy resources without being tied to a physical location and provide for instructor design of the learning modules. This resource, designed by Case Western Reserve University, provides an innovative anatomy instructional resource to ensure students have access to a current and flexible learning platform.

Who can use this service?

Faculty & Students

How do I purchase a license?

Licenses are purchased at the department level.

Internal Data (Requires Login)

Status: Acquired

04/08/2024 11:30:44